SmartPost – Schedule your GP transaction posting to occur when you choose

SmartPost automates the posting process in GP to fit with your business timeframes. Whether you import transactions via SmartConnect, manually key large volumes of data, or are simply tired of waiting until everyone goes home so you can post – SmartPost is the solution. SmartPost is configurable for your specific business and can post transactions across one or multiple GP databases.

Post Imports

It does not matter how the batch transactions arrived in GP – they always need posting. If you have an integration scheduled for 10pm you can schedule SmartPost to post all those records when it is complete. So when you arrive the next day you know the records are both imported and posted.

Manage Batches

Streamline your day to day posting process with SmartPost. Have users move completed transactions to specifically named batches and SmartPost will look after the posting process for the whole team. Use the 'equals', 'contains', 'begins with' or 'ends with' functions to ensure users can maintain identifiable batch naming conventions and still trigger SmartPost.

No Slow Time

Why slow down your team by posting records during peak periods. Move all posting to after hours or to quiet times to ensure your team remains efficient.

Email Results

SmartPost will email defined users the results of posting routines, including copies of posting journals and posting reports.

Multi Company

Post transactions in as many databases as required. If you have a single import into multiple databases – the single SmartPost routine will post to all defined companies. When a posting schedule is triggered, in the background SmartPost does all the hard work of logging into each company, finding all the batches to post, posting them and then emailing reports.

Make your whole team more efficient by posting transactions while you sleep.

“SmartPost saves up an unbelievable amount of time. We operate 114 Dynamic GP companies and use SmartConnect to import the bank file into each of the databases. To post these manually means logging into each company individually. SmartPost does all that work for us by posting the journals in every database at the same time”
